LANDMARK FOR TWO CENTURIES: The stately Mercer Oak has stood in solitary splendor in Princeton's Battlefield Park for some 200 years. Legend has it that its name stems from the fact that General Hugh Mercer lay under it after he was mortally wounded by the British during the Battle of Princeton in January, 1777. Realists claim that the tree could not be that old, but none can dispute the name of Mercer Oak. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Marie Bellis)

Colin Carpi, Charged with Wife's Murder, Free on $100,000 Bail

Twenty-five bodies were pulled from the rivers surrounding Manhattan Island the week of June 11. Twenty-four of them, whether identified or not, did not create much of a stir.

The 25th and its subsequent identification opened a new chapter in the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Laura P. Carpi, which took place more than five months ago on a rainy Monday morning in February.

What some believed was just a case of a missing person became an obvious case of murder last week when it was revealed that a body identified as Mrs. Carpi had been found floating in New York's East River, with a gun shot wound in the back of the head.

Charged with her murder and currently free on $100,000 bail is her estranged husband, Colin C. Carpi, who commented last February when his wife disappeared that he was aware "people were looking at me as the guy who had the potential motive."

Lengthy Questioning. Routed from his bed early Friday morning, Mr. Carpi was questioned extensively for two days in Township Police headquarters and reportedly given a polygraph lie detector test. Neither Gerald Stockman, Carpi's attorney, nor Mercer County Prosecutor Bruce M. Schragger will confirm whether the test was administered.

After spending two nights in the Township jail, Mr. Carpi was arraigned Monday morning at 10 a.m. before Township Judge Burton Peskin in a hearing lasting barely a minute. Judge Peskin sent the case up for grand jury action, allowing Mr. Carpi's transfer to the Mercer County Courthouse.

OFF TO MERCER COUNTY JAIL: Following his Monday morning arraignment before Township Judge Burton Peskin, Colin C. Carpi (right) steps into a car outside Township Hall for a ride to Mercer County Jail and a bail hearing before Judge Clifton C. Bennett. He raised the $100,000 bail and was free by 4 p.m. With him are (at top) his attorney Gerald Stockman; Chief Frederick Porter and Det. Samuel Bianco.

Monday afternoon, he appeared before County Judge Clifton C. Bennett, who set bail at $100,000 as recommended by Mr. Schragger. Mr. Stockman asked for bail of $50,000, contending that $100,000 would be a "serious Burden" on Mr. Carpi.

Released around 3:15 p.m. Monday afternoon, Mr. Carpi is reported to have put up his home at 148 Fairway Drive as security for the bail. It has been valued in the neighborhood of $80,000. His mother, Mrs. Frederick Carpi, reportedly provided the balance.

Those charged with first degree murder are not normally granted bail, but Mr. Schragger recommended it for Mr. Carpi to avoid having to present any evidence he may have. However, at Mr. Schragger's urging, Mr. Carpi's movements were confined to the boundaries of Mercer County by Judge Bennett.

His Attorney's Statement. Mr. Carpi will plead "emphatically and unequivocably not guilty" to the charges, according to Mr. Stockman. In comments to the press Monday, Mr. Stockman said Mr. Carpi is under tremendous pressure because of the publicity in this case, and "he has been fighting to protect his small children, his business . . . and now he is fighting for his life."

The 39-year old Princeton University and Harvard Business School graduate, who heads his own investment consultants firm, was formerly president of General Interiors of New York City.

Following the bail hearing, Mr. Schragger said he did not expect to take the case before the Mercer County Grand Jury for "at least a couple of weeks," or longer.

He sidestepped a question as to whether Mr. Carpi is suspected of having committed the murder himself or conspired with another person to do it, saying simply that Mr. Carpi is charged with murder.

Mr. Schragger has declined to comment on what evidence he has based the murder charge against Mr. Carpi. He also has given no motive for the killing.

Police speculate Mrs. Carpi was killed on or about February 8 and her body transported to the East River. There is also belief that the murder occurred in her house at 213 State Road.

A .32 caliber revolver is thought to have been the murder weapon, but authorities have not confirmed this.

There have also been suggestions that the body may have been weighted down when thrown into the river, but authorities have remained silent on that question. A spokesman in the Chief Medical Examiner's office in New York, where Mrs. Carpi's body remains, said that bodies that have lain on the bottom of waterways tend to rise to the surface in the summer months as the water gets warmer.

Others Questioned. Several others were also questioned during the police investigation including Mr. Carpi's secretary, Ruth Ann Dirkes, 34, of the 200 block of Laetsch Street in West Windsor Township.

Physicians call it obesity, but it's just as unhealthy if we call it pounds—too many pounds. In some places a chief cause of early death is malnutrition but in this country the Grim Reaper's number one helper is overeating. Overweight people subject their heart and blood vessels to undue stresses and strains. Every ounce of excess flesh is a menace to health. Which is why so many of us diet today. And those of us who are wise see a physician first. We, as professional pharmacists, know how effective a doctor's advice can be.

Brief Corpi Hearing Well Covered by Press

Although Colin C. Carpi may spend weeks in a Trenton court while the question of his guilt or innocence on a charge of murder is settled by a jury of his peers, his formal appearance before a judge in Princeton Township Monday lasted only a few minutes.

Despite the fact that his hearing was nothing more than a legal formality, more than a score of reporters and photographers from New York, Newark, Trenton and Philadelphia flocked to Township Hall. This was to be Colin C. Carpi's first public appearance as a man charged with murder.

A half-hour before his 10 o'clock hearing, photographers began milling around the short L-shaped flight of stairs that he would walk up to reach the second-floor court room. Positioning themselves, some congregated near the door from which Mr. Carpi would emerge to get a frontal shot. Others stationed themselves on the landing halfway up the stairs.

They tested their electronic flash guns to make sure their equipment was in working order. One photographer from Philadelphia's Channel 6 Action News had a belt of batteries resembling oversized cartridges flung over one shoulder to provide power for the floodlight he held in his other hand.

Suddenly the door opened. The photographers tensed but relaxed as Judge Burton Peskin mounted the steps.

He smiled and appeared startled by the gauntlet of photographers. The door opened again. It was Township Lt. Richard V. Steiner. "Get ready, it won't be long now, boys," he said. The photographers kept their cameras at eye level.

The door opened again and the hallway was bathed in flashing lights. Township Detective Norman Servis emerged, followed by Mr. Carpi and his attorney, Gerald Stockman. They strode quickly up the steps. Soon they were inside the large court room, safe from the photographers. Judge Peskin, seated behind a long table, waited.

Mr. Carpi dressed in a dark, conservative business suit, faced him, standing between Mr. Stockman and Detective Servis.

"Are you Colin C. Carpi of 148 Fairway Drive?" began Judge Peskin. "I am," was the reply.

Judge Peskin then read the charge against him and cautioned that anything he said could be used against him. When Mr. Carpi's attorney sought to enter a not-guilty plea, Judge Peskin stopped him, explaining this was neither the proper time or place.

Then, as expected, he ordered him remanded to Mercer County Jail without bail. His attorney immediately requested and was granted a bail hearing in Mercer County Court. The balding defendant was led out the courtroom, down the same steps where the photographers had remained. The strobe lights flashed again.

A few minutes later, Mr. Carpi was led out a rear door into a waiting car for the drive to Trenton. Again the photographers clustered around him. The car sped off.

The entire procedure took about 10 minutes. For all intents and purposes, the Township's role in the case was at an end.

Investigation Continues. While the story dropped from the news, however, the work of the Township Police continued quietly. Det. Sgt. Norman Servis and Det. Samuel Bianco checked all possible leads in the case. Det. Servis spent two days in Brigantine in June checking the identity of a body that washed ashore in the surf. The woman was positively identified as someone else. A blanket-wrapped body in Florida also proved to be the wrong one.

Then on June 11 a woman's body was fished out of the East River off the 22nd Street Pier. A description was teletyped to all police agencies by New York police as a routine procedure for identification.

Det. Robert McMann of the N.J. State Police, here, mentioned this to Sgt. Servis who notified the county prosecutor's office that it should be checked out. Dr. David A. Fluck, Mercer County pathologist, and Dr. Richard L. McCelland, Mrs. Carpi's dentist poined several other police officers in the trip to New York. The badly decomposed body, which officials say had been in the water several months, was positively identified as Mrs. Carpi on Thursday.

The four Carpi children, who at the moment are being cared for by Mr. Carpi's mother, remain in the middle of the tragedy. They lived with Mrs. Carpi from the time of the couple's separation until her disappearance in February, and then moved in with their father. A court fight for custody of the children by Mrs. Carpi's mother was defeated earlier this summer.

Township police said that during the time she was separated from her husband, Mrs. Carpi called police headquarters on several occasions complaining her husband was keeping the children too long on visits, and that they had to locate Mr. Carpi and take the children back to their mother.

Also questioned was Dr. William Moskowitz, a Somerville optometrist and close friend of Mrs. Carpi, with whom he had reportedly been collaborating on a book dealing with a children's eye disease. He had offered a $10,000 reward for Mrs. Carpi's safe return shortly after she suddenly vanished last February 8 from her rented home on State Road. The two were reportedly planning to wed after each obtained divorces.

Her disappearance, which at first did not stir much interest, attracted wide attention after Mrs. Carpi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Philadelphia, hired a private investigator to search for clues.

A heavy 10 by 12 foot rug was found to be missing from the dining room, although friends reported it was there for a Saturday night party just two days before. Blood spots were also found on the floor and rug pad.

Mrs. Carpi's car was found in the garage with the keys in the ignition. No personal belongings, including money, cosmetics or luggage were found to be missing. The 37-year-old brunette was reported to have been wearing a nightgown and no shoes when last seen.

A 13-state alarm was issued for Mrs. Carpi, a 37-year-old graduate of Smith College, who worked in the White House during the Eisenhower Administration, researching social backgrounds of prospective appointees.

Specially-trained dogs were also pressed into service in the woods behind Mrs. Carpi's home, but after the first series of disclosures, no new leads appeared, at least none that police were willing to divulge.

The private investigator was dropped, and it appeared that Mrs. Carpi's disappearance, might remain a mystery forever.

ENGINEERING STUDIED

By 39 Princeton Youths. Thirty-nine Princeton Middle School youth are learning the rudiments of rocketry, electronics, computers, bridge construction, ecology, and a number of other aspects of science and technology this month, thanks to funds from the federal government and the Trinity and All Saints' Episcopal churches of Princeton.

The boys and girls are participants in the third annual summer of engineering activities, based in Princeton University's School of Engineering and Applied Science. The program was begun on a much smaller, experimental basis in 1969, the result of a suggestion by James A. Floyd, now the Township mayor. Volunteer efforts and local donations sustained it through its early days.

Since then the program has expanded in size and scope to the extent that its old title, "Summer in Engineering," no longer applies. It is now a year-round activity with a newly-named year-round director, and a budget of $43,000 — $38,000 from funds authorized by Title III of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and $5,000 from the two local churches. The new title is "Engineering and Secondary School Education."

The new director is Chester V. Harker, a middle-school mathematics teacher at Valley Road School. During the summer his staff includes six counselors from Princeton High School, eleven student counselors from the University, two public school teachers and five University faculty members.

During the school year he will work with eight University students, one University faculty member and many Middle School math and science faculty members to bring new educational materials developed over the summer into the regular curriculum.

The "Real World." The original goal of the first Summer in Engineering program remains: to stimulate disadvantaged students with high aptitude to perform better in mathematics and science by showing them how their classroom learning is used in the "real world" of engineers and scientists, and by expanding their awareness of career possibilities in technical fields. Meanwhile, other goals have been added:

- To devise and test a series of engineering-based experiments and demonstrations for use in the school-year curriculum;
- To introduce the counselors to the opportunities available in secondary school teaching and child development work;

- To sustain the interest of the summer student participants during the school year, through supplemental laboratory work and individual attention;
- To improve communication channels among community residents, local teachers, University faculty, and youth with regard to local educational needs and opportunities.

For the first time the program has been opened to girls as well as boys, and to students in private and parochiel as well as public schools. Pupils have completed at least six but fewer than nine grades, and have been identified by their teachers and a program committee as likely to benefit from intensive summer work. Nine of the 39 are girls, and all of the 39 are enrolled in public schools.

A Week at Camp. The youths, divided into four groups, spend a week in each of three areas of the Engineering School, and a fourth week at the Princeton Summer Camp in Blairstown. The camp visit, a new part of the program this year, affords an opportunity for such things as construction of a rope suspension bridge and a miniature hydroelectric power generator, and extensive ecological study.

For the Princeton-based participants, the counselors oversee an informal recreation program in the afternoons. Trips to a nuclear energy exhibit at Burlington (N.J.), to McGuire Air Force Base, and to the Department of Physics across the campus break up the routine.

To a large extent the subject matter has been planned, and the teaching carried out, by the Princeton University undergraduates, with the high-school counselors as their assistants and the public school and University faculty members as their supervisors.

All participants and activities are evaluated regularly by each counselor, in order to discover what kinds of activities, demonstrations, experiments, and other experiences are most successful with what groups of the younger participants. The evaluations will be used in the preparation of school-year educational materials, according to Mr. Harker.

Program Director. The new program director, Mr. Harker, is a 52-year-old Trenton native who has been a Princeton public school teacher and administrator since 1963. Before that he served in the U.S. Army Air Corps and Air Force from 1942 to 1963, rising to Lieutenant Colonel, logging over 4,000 flying hours and winning 37 military awards and decorations.

He holds the bachelor's degree from New Jersey State Teachers' College in Trenton, and the master's from Rutgers. Married and the father of two, Mr. Harker makes his home at 17 Rockleigh Drive, Trenton.

Other teachers participanting with Mr. Harker are Gilbert H. Mortensen, chairman of the mathematics department, Princeton High School; and David Larkin, science teacher at Valley Road School.

An advisory committee made up of representatives of the local community, the schools and the University met regularly to design this year's program and to submit a proposal for funding to the federal government through the Trenton offices of the New Jersey Department of Education.

FOG LIFTS

On Mosquito Problem. A newly-developed larvicide will replace fogging in future attempts to reduce the mosquito population in the Township's wildlife refuge, as the result of an agreement between conservation groups and county officials at a Township Board of Health meeting last week.

The county's fogging of the reserve two weeks ago to wipe out potential malaria-bearing mosquitos brought forth a storm of protests from conservationists.

According to Russell Murphy, the county mosquito control agent, fogging with Malathion was decided upon because conservationists had asked the county not to spray DDT or any other pesticide when the reserve opened three years ago.

Measuring Stick

Corn growing high
As an elephant's eye
Is a sure enough sign
Of a healthy July.

Persistent tendencies toward a serious drought are broken now and then by some fairly persistent rain. Early Saturday morning, for example, we got about six-tenths of an inch, and another half-inch fell (rather rapidly) Monday afternoon.

Now and then, too, the inevitable July humidity is broken, but there is still more than enough in the summer store-room. It will be back with us Thursday and Friday, while the weekend outlook is for fair skies and daytime temperatures in the high 80s.

The new larvicide, Abate, made by American Cyanamid, is sprayed, and thus was not used.

Around the state, the preferred methods are draining standing surface water, or clearing vegetation, or using a larva killer. The first two would ruin the reserve, and in the future it will be surveyed for its mosquito breeding grounds for possible selective larviciding later.

MARSH'S ENTERED

Office Equipment Taken. The Marsh & Company drug store, 30 Nassau Street, was entered and robbed over the weekend.

A meticulous thief drilled four holes in the corners of a wooden panel of a rear door, sawed out the panel, reached in and unlocked the door. Once inside, he removed an adding machine, typewriter and radio valued at more than $400.

Sgt. Arthur Gallant and Ptl. Roert Mucciarelli are conducting the investigation. The theft took place between 1 p.m. Sunday and 8:30 Monday morning when it was discovered.

SKIPWORTH IS CHARGED

With Trespassing. Freddie Skipworth, 20, of Hollow Road, Skillman, has been charged with trespassing on Nassau Green by James Kopliner, assistant director of security for Princeton University.

Skipworth was taken to Borough headquarters Thursday where he was also charged with possession of alcohol by Borough Detective Thomas Procaccino. He was released in his own recognizance to await a hearing in Borough court.

YOUTH FACES CHARGES

On Three Separate Counts. Eddie Vernon Jr., 18, of Magie Apartments, is scheduled to appear in Borough Court next Wednesday afternoon to answer three separate criminal charges.

He has been charged with robbery and on two counts of possession of stolen property. He was arrested at 1:10 Friday and charged with the robbery at the Luxe French Dry Cleaning, 205 Witherspoon Street the day before.

According to police, Vernon allegedly walked behind the counter of the dry cleaning shop, opened the cash register and removed between $55 and $60. He threatened and pushed the lone woman attendant, they said.

NEW MAN, NEW BIKE, SAME RESULTS: Princeton Borough has a new man patroling the Borough's 1,000 plus parking meters. On July 15, Doug Drummond of Jefferson Road became the municipality's first full-time meter enforcer, freeing Ptl. William Hunter for other police duties. Instead of the usual police motorcycle, Doug rides in an enclosed Cushman cycle. And, despite the changes the results will remain the same — lots and lots of parking tickets. Actually, it isn't all that new to Doug. He was concerned with traffic control while serving as an MP Air Police in the Air Force. He is a 1965 graduate of Princeton High School.

area for the suspect who was last seen fleeing on foot. He was later released in $1,000 bail.

Vernon was charged with possession of stolen property last week after he allegedly tried to cash a forged check on a stolen Princeton University Store card. When approached by one of the officers in the store, he fled, police reported.

After being charged by Sgt. Arthur Gallant, he was released in $100 bail. He was also charged by Det. Thomas Procaccino with possession of stolen property in connection with a theft in May involving stolen property from McCarter Theatre. He was released in his own recognizance on that charge.

POLICE CHARGE GRIGGS

With Possession of Heroin. Douglas Griggs, 22, 9 Berrien Court, has been charged by Township police with possession of heroin. He is being held in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail, to await a hearing in Township Court scheduled for next Wednesday.

Griggs was arrested at 8:16 Saturday night in Battle Park by Ptl. David Cromwell, who had a warrant for Griggs' arrest, charging him with possession of a stolen check. During their investigation, police uncovered the heroin and added the drug charge.

TRENTON YOUTH INDICTED

For Campus Holdup. Allen Cooper, 19, of Trenton, has been indicted by a Mercer County Grand Jury for an armed holdup last March on the Princeton University campus.

Cooper was indicted for pulling a gun on Richard Maddox in his room in Henry Hall and taking about $40 in cash and other items. He and two accomplices were seen fleeing the early morning stickup by off-duty detective Timothy Huizing of the Borough police.

The three escaped but Det. Huizing managed to get the license number of their car. The suspects were apprehended shortly after by Trenton police on Route 1.

RULING "MAY HELP US"

Students' Attorney Says. Joel Sterns, lawyer for a group of Princeton University students who want to register to vote in Princeton, says that a recent Massachusetts ruling "may help us."

Massachusetts' Attorney General Robert H. Quinn has ruled that students under age 21 may register to vote in communities where they attend school.

The Princeton students were turned down earlier this year when they tried to register to vote because municipal officials said they did not fill the residency requirement.

"Although I have not read the full text yet," Mr. Sterns said, "I am very pleased to hear about it." He noted that voting requirements vary from state to state and the Massachusetts ruling might not have any effect upon the students here except to encourage them to try to register.

The Sabbath Was Disturbed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of our entire family, Dr. Edelmann and I wish to register a complaint against unnecessary and most disturbing noise issuing from three rock bands at the Italian-American Sportsman's Club throughout the entire afternoon of Sunday, July 25, a so-called day-of-rest.

Our personal and polite visit to the premises, and subsequent telephone calls to police, lawyers, and neighbors in high township positions only confirmed our fears: that no power exists which can assure us the peace and quiet of our own back yard.

In view of a similar situation in the Borough, reported in July 14 newspapers, we demand an ordinance which will give police power to stop noise which is disruptive to the peace of an entire neighborhood.

WERNER J. EDELMANN
CAROLYN F. EDELMANN
60 Braeburn Drive

Editor's Note: Township Chief of Police Fred Porter reports that the municipality has an anti-noise ordinance which specifically prohibits unnecessary sound created by loud speakers and amplifiers. He also said that a complaint has been signed against one or more of those who gave the party in question.

Dr. Boonin Answered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is a copy of Parents of Princeton School Children reply to Nathaniel Boonin, whose letter was published in TOWN TOPICS' July 22.

Either you came into the picture too late to know what the real situtions has been, or you read hysteria and games into the "Parents of Princeton School Children" ads because that's what you wanted to find.

We went to the School Administrators with our questions. We received no answers. We went to the School Board agenda meetings with questions. We were answered with silence. We wrote, telephoned, and made personal visits to school board members. We were ignored. We went to the School Board meetings and were gaveled down.

The School Administration and the majority of the School Board have made it very clear by their behavior that they are contemptuous of parents who have the temerity to question their decisions. Indeed, such parents are interfering and irritating!

We do not understand what's happening in our schools and at our School Board meetings. But, surely we have the right to ask questions about the quality and kind of education OUR tax money is buying for OUR children! Healthy criticism is the firm foundation of American tradition.

For quiet, thoughful, respectful voices asking questions there is no appropriate place to get answers. We know. We have repeatedly tried "the appropriate places". The questions are now being asked publicly because every other avenue of communication has led to a dead end.

If we've gotten the idea that the School Board majority and the School Administrators are not answering our questions because they do not want us to know what is really going on, that impression can be immediately remedied with answers - real answers, not double talk and side stepping of issues.

Agreed, Dr. Boonin, our schools ARE too important to play games with. And that's exactly what we see the Administration doing!

MRS. ALFRED GREEN
MRS. RUSSELL DAVISON

Letters to TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox" should be typed, double-spaced, signed and received for publication no later than Monday. No letter will be printed without a valid signature and address. Stop The Muzak.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We are complaining about the Muzak played at the swimming pool complex during most of its open hours. As pool and tennis court members we don't wish to hear music we never asked for. It's annoying at the pool and distracting on the tennis courts.

We would prefer that you stop playing music altogether. At the least you should carry out a referendum among pool and tennis court users to see if anybody actually wants it.

Military Balance Unfavorable.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following information from the Supplemental Statement to the Report of the Blue Ribbon Defense Panel submitted to the President and The Secretary of Defense of the United States of America should be of deep interest and concern to all Princetonians:

"The convergence of a number of trends indicates a significant shifting of the strategic military balance against the United States and in favor of the Soviet Union. These trends include: (i) the growing Soviet superiority in ICBM's; (ii) the Soviet commitment of greater resources than the U.S. to strategic offensive and defensive weapons, with continued deployment thereof; (iii) the possibility that U.S. Technological superiority will be lost to the Soviet Union; (iv) the convincing evidence that the Soviet Union seeks a presumptive first-strike capability; (v) the rapidly expanding Soviet naval capability; and (vi) the mounting hostility of segments of the public towards the military, the defense establishment and the 'military industrial complex,' without due recognition that sustained irresponsible criticism could undermine and weaken the only forces which provide security for the U.S.

"If these observable trends continue the U.S. will become a second-rate power incapable of assuring the future security and freedom of its people. Neither the facts concerning these trends nor the ultimate danger is generally understood by the public, which for the most part remains uninformed and hence apathetic."

Recipe for a Successful Reunion: Take 213 Carraways and Mix Well

The Carraway Family turned Quarry Street upside down.

More than 80 families, numbering 213 people, held the 22nd annual Carraway reunion at 11 Quarry Street, home of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, on the weekend of July 17-18.

"I like to see families close," Mrs. Ethel Mitnaul of 10 Lytle Street says warmly. She was reunion registrar and co-organizer with Mrs. Taylor. "We're now planning the 1972 reunion in Statesville, Ga., and in 1973 in Cleveland!"

"It sure keeps you alive!" is the fervent comment of Ernest Booker Taliaferro Carraway, whose letters to "My Nearest and Dearest of Kindred" start reunion plans rolling each year.

Carraways came from all over - Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, New York City, Cleveland, O., Colorado, Chicago and California. The oldest was Mrs. Maggie Parrish, 76, of Jacksonville, Fla. The youngest was Angel Wallace, five months, of Cream Ridge.

The best pie was baked by a teenager, Cathie Pemberton, 15, of Monmouth Junction. "She came in with navy bean pie," Mrs. Lillie Taylor says delightedly. "Two big ones. They were delicious!"

Long Distance Barbecue. And John H. Carraway, brother of "B.T." and the family expert on barbecue, brought with him barbecued chicken prepared in North Carolina an packed in ice. It was heated in the ovens at First Baptist Church, half a block away. "Was it good!" the Princeton Carraways say.

Guests started arriving on Saturday afternoon at 11 Quarry Street, the reunion headquarters. The house, Mrs. Lillie Taylor says, is the former house of Paul Robeson, a Carraway relative.

They filled the long back lawn where tables and chairs were set and dinner was served. Afterwards, "B.T." showed colored slides of previous reunions, the teenagers gave a fashion show, and there was singing, accompanied on the guitar by a cousin from Colorado.

On Sunday, everybody came back for breakfast and went to the church of their choice. The Quarry Street neighbors joined in the midday meal. "There was plenty of food for everybody," Mrs. Mitnaul reports.

"It was the same old spirit and everybody had a lot to talk about," B.T. Carraway said later in a pleased way. A Carraway reunion was his idea in the first place.

"I got to thinking that the cousins didn't know each other until the funerals began," he said. "That was 22 years ago. We're into the sixth generation now."

How It All Began. All 80 families are descended from Lucinda and Lafayette Carraway, who lived near Robersonville in Martin County, N. C. They had seven children, Charles, Phaton, George, Amy, Ellen, Rose and Margaret. Charles, "B.T.'s" father, went to Georgia to live in 1889. Phaton joined him but he didn't like it there and in 1892 he headed for Boston. He stopped in Princeton with relatives the Paul Robeson family, and stayed on here, joined later by his sister Ellen. He worked for Princeton University for 39 years. The Princeton hosts for the reunion are descendants of Phaton, George and Mrs. Ellen C. Highsmith.

Back in 1950 "B.T." Carraway sent out a flock of letters to his side of the family inviting them to a reunion at his house in Statesville, Ga. "We had a lovely time, from Friday to Sunday," he reports. "My brother asked us all to meet at his place in Cleveland the next year. We continued to meet each year, going around the clock among the brothers and sisters. It was a source of great joy and fellowship year by year. . .

"Then in 1968 I came to Princeton for a funeral. My stepsister in North Carolina kept telling me 'I'm going to carry you to Princeton to meet your cousins!' The funeral was the first time I met them. I didn't know the Princeton side of the family at all.

"At the next reunion we decided to invite the branch to the 1969 reunion in Fayetteville, N.C. They came and we had a glorious time together.

"This was the first year we had to bother with motels, there were so many of us. Before, with just one branch reunioning, the host would fill up his house and the neighbors would take the rest."

In North Carolina in 1970. Last year the Carraway reunion was held in Greensboro, N.C., where "B.T." now lives. He's retired after 39 years with the state and Federal government. He was with the xetension service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, keeping farmers up to date with new developments. His wife, Ruby, was a home economics teacher for 40 years.

He came up to Princeton on Palm Sunday to see if he could help with reunion plans. "I had lived with this thing for 20 years." Everything he checked on, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Mitnaul had already taken care of "so I could just go home!"

At the 1970 meeting he was elected business manager and coordinator of the reunions. "He's permanent!" Mrs. Taylor laughs affectionately. "What, forever?" he retorts. This month, he has 98 letters to send out for the 1972 reunion, and a mimeographed list of members' names and addresses to prepare for mailing. "They're all asking for that list!"

As the reunion ended, all gathered around in a circle, linking hands, and sang, "God be with you 'til we meet again," the traditional closing song.

"The reunion will never die as long as I live," Mr. Carraway says in a firm, gentle way.

Recycling in Lawrenceville Saturday

The Lawrenceville Ecology Club is sponsoring a recycling project this Saturday from 9 until noon. Material may be brought to the parking lot behind Abbott Dining Hall on the Lawrenceville School campus.

The organization will accept for recycling: newspapers and magazines, dry and tied in bundles; clean aluminum cans, foil, TV dinner trays, window sashes, pots and pans; also clean glass, separated into clear, brown and green. Please remove the metal ring from bottles with twist-off caps.

The ecology group in Princeton and Lawrenceville who man the collection depots are all volunteers. After the last deposit is made there is much left to be done by the volunteers, sorting and flattening items, loading trucks, and so on. Participants who bring items to the collections early in in the morning will give a big boost to the system.

TWO ARE FINED $25

For Stealing Bicycles. Two Princeton young men were each fined $25 in criminal court last week for stealing bicycles.

Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. leavied the fines against Larry A. Spruill, 20, 82 Clay St., and Benjamin Rush IV, 20, 448 Walnut Lane. Both pleaded guilty to the separate thefts.

For trespassing on the Princeton University campus in June, Charles F. Mills, 20, 347 Prospect Avenue, and Douglass W. Griggs, 22, 27 Quarry Street, each paid $20. Proctor Michael Felton was the complainant.

Roy Sloan, 29, 41 Quarry Street, was sentenced to 15 days in Mercer County Jail for the atrocious assault and battery of Linda Mae Brown, who lives at the same address. The sentence was stayed, however, until the Public Defender's office files an appeal which it stated it planned to do.

Donald B. Tadlock, 28, of 29 Green Street, was fined $25 for possession of marijuana on Nassau Street. Detective Timothy Huizing brought the charge.

James E. Miller, 18, 7 Lytle Street, Vincent H. Boone, 20, 116 Leigh Avenue, and Gregory G. Herndon, 21, of East Orange, all waived a preliminary hearing for probable cause and were referred to a Grand Jury for action. Together, the three faced a total of 11 charges.

Miller was charged with cashing a stolen and forged check at Davidson's Market, with cashing a forged check at a First National Bank branch office and with possession of stolen checks.

Boone and Herndon were arrested July 5 at a police roadblock at Wiggins and Greenview set up after they had run a red light on Nassau at Witherspoon Street and tried to escape.

Each has been charged by Ptl. Kerry Klink with possession of a stolen car, possession of an illegal weapon (a pistol), possession of narcotic paraphernalia and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Two juveniles were in their company at the time of their arrest. One was the driver of the car which had been stolen in East Orange June 17.

FIVE ARE FINED

Jeffery T. York, 18, 50 Linden Lane, paid $5 for having no lights on his bicycle.

Township Court. In Township Court last week, Judge Burton Peskin fined James D. Kochis, 95 Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, $20 for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car. Clifford L. Lamar 3d, 18, 6 Greenhouse Dr., paid $5 as an unlicensed driver.

Paying $15 fines were A.J. Rapp, 96 Leigh Avenue, and William G. Sayen, 22, 167 Edgerstoune Road, both unregistered vehicle; Genie J. Coleman, 74, 71 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, and Brooks Mohrman, 18, Cherry Valley Road, both failure to keep right; Doris M. Gettlefinger, 49, 160 Bertrand Drive, stop sign; and Francis Mangone, 20, 40 Jefferson Road, careless driving.

Recycling Results: 35 Tons

Last Saturday's recycling turnout of 826 participants reflected a six percent decrease from previous records, but volunteer workers for the sixth monthly collection by the Princeton Conservation Coalition still netted a high poundage of recyclable refuse.

In all more than 18 tons of glass, 280 pounds of aluminum, better than two tons of bimetal, and almost 15 tons of newspapers were collected.

The Conservation Coalition has set the next recycling date for 8:30-10:30 a.m., Saturday, August 21 at the student parking lot off Faculty Road. Volunteers are still being sought to help gather the material.

James and Margaret Cawley Re-Explore State's Little Rivers

LITTLE RIVERS RE-EXPLORED: James and Margaret Cawley of Kington have revisited the small rivers in the state that formed the basis for their book "Exploring the Little Rivers of New Jersey," first published in 1942. In the 29 years between canoe trips, they report there has been little change in the conditions of the streams, despite major pollution problems elsewhere.

New Jersey for many people means urban sprawl, the non aesthetic vistas of swamp and industry viewed from the Turnpike and pollution of the air and water.

James and Margaret Cawley, 20 Church Street, Kingston, veteran canoeists, are trying to change this image in the revised edition of their book, "Exploring the Little Rivers of New Jersey," recently re issued by the Rutgers University Press. The book was first published in 1942.

"One many explore this charming countryside quietly paddling a canoe down any one of the many little rivers of the state," the authors declare. "Exploring by canoe enables one not only to savor the smell of the pines and cedars and observe the wildlife along the streams, but also to get to know the rivers in a way not possible otherwise."

In their book, the Cawleys describe their experiences a year ago re-exploring 16 of the state's rivers and the historic Delaware and Raritan Canal. They found "surprisingly little change in the conditions of our streams" in the 29 years between the first and third editions of their book. A second edition was printed 10 years ago.

Many Rivers, Still Clean.

"In a few of our rivers there is noticeable pollution, but many of them seem still clean," the authors state. "Perhaps the current efforts to restore our environment will save our little rivers from further spoilage before it is too late."

The Cawleys (he is 78 and she is 74) have been canoeists for more than half a century. They met on a canoeing trip and were married in 1920. For their honeymoon they took a canoeing trip. Their three daughters were brought up to be canoeists and the current edition of their book is dedicated to them.

"To be able to launch a canoe in a river, where conditions are sometimes truly wild in every sense of the word, where mile after mile, the stately white cedars surround the canoeists with beauty, with the fast, foam-flecked water rushing round the bend, makes such a day on a river a rare adventure," the authors write.

They describe their experiences canoeing on the rivers of South Jersey, including the Mullica, Maurice, Batsto, Wading and Great Egg Harbor streams flowing through an area covering a quarter of the state. The Cawleys also discuss their canoe trips on such Northern New Jersey rivers as Paulins Kill, Musconetcong, Ramapo, Passaic and the North and South branches of the Raritan.

Shore rivers, including Toms and Manasquan, also are covered in the book. A chapter is devoted to the Delaware and Raritan Canal.

The book is liberally illustrated with photographs and maps and contains helpful information concerning public and private camp sites along the river banks.

WARNINGS ON CABLE TV

Potential Seen Endangered.

The Center for Analysis of Public Issues, in a report entitled "Crossed Wires: Cable Television in New Jersey" has called for sweeping changes in the ground rules for cable TV development.

"CATV could become a valuable public resource but the current pattern of official irresponsibility, primitive franchise provisions and state inaction offers little hope for achieving that potential," said Richard C. Leone, Director of the Center which maintains offices at 92-A Nassau Street. "In an earlier stage of our research, we suggester the recently enacted one-year moratorium of cable TV franchising," Mr. Leone continued. "With this report, we offer a possible regulatory framework which includes a strong mandate for the state Public Utilities Commission, creation of a state Office of Cable Communications, and more open and objective procedures for municipal franchising."

Indictments of officials in Trenton and sensational testimony before a state legislative committee have focused public attention on possible instances of official corruption in the awarding of cable TV franchises. But, Mr. Leone emphasized, "the alledged corruption is only the most blatant example of the pervasive failures to protect the public interest in this area."

The center's 95-page report, the result of eight months of study by student interns and senior staff, provides an analysis of existing franchise arrangements in the state. More than 150 New Jersey communities already have granted franchises to cable TV operators. If properly organized, CATV may offer consumers more diversity in programming, industry expanded data and information systems, and community groups low cost access to television.

The Center's key findings and recommendations follow:

•Researchers found several instances of "no-show" franchises which appear to have been obtained only for speculative purposes and later resale.

•Cable TV franchises have been awarded hastily, sometimes almost on a "first come, first served" basis. Most franchises now in effect were awarded after a few weeks, without technical assistance and without competitive bidding. Public hearings were rare, and political influence was sometimes important. Few local officials interviewed demonstrated any knowledge of the public issues raised by CATV.

•Most franchises are deficient in terms of channel capacity, public access, performance requirements, and technical standards.

SEASONAL FIGURES UP

In Latest Business Index. Construction figures, which normally rise during the second quarter of each year, provide the brighlest spot in TOWN TOPICS' latest quarterly Business Index.

Building permits are up in both Borough and Township, and housing starts are up in the Township. Value of building permits is up in the Township and down in the Borough but both are up over the corresponding figures last year.

New car sales have made a significant increase over the first quarter, another seasonal trend, but are down a bit from the second quarter of 1970 This is the lowest second quarter figure in four years.

Savings accounts rose as usual; checking accounts dropped a bit, but loans took a significant dip from $116 million to $108 million.

Parking meter receipts continued their steady increase, helped by the installation of new meters at the Penn Central Station at the bottom of University Place. Postal recepits also scored a major gain, especially over the corresponding period a year ago.

Fewer people are selling houses in the Borough than earlier this year or last, but Township residents have increased their turnover in this field.

COLLEGE FILMS SET

For N.Y. Times Distribution. The Visual Education Corporation, 364 Nassau Street, has turned over its College Selection Films to be distributed exclusively by The New York Times.

The films, a series of 13 motivational and guidance presentations attempt to give high school students a comparison of life styles at different kinds of colleges across the country.

Each film runs from 13 to 17 minutes. In spontaneous interviews and rap sessions in lecture halls, cafeterias and dormitories, the film content presents student and faculty perceptions about the personality of and educational opportunities at either a coed libera arts college, community college, large state university or predominantly black school.

In addition to giving students a frame of reference against which they can compare possible college choices, the films expose guidance counselors, and parents to the broad diversity of college living experiences available in the country.

Requests to preview the College Selection Films should be sent on educational letterhead to the Library and Information Services Division of The New York Times, Room 649, 229 West 43d Street, New York, N.Y. 10013.

BANK MERGER APPROVED

Franklin State Involved. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has approved the merger of The Franklin State Bank, Franklin Township, and The Farmers and Merchants National Bank, Monmouth County.

In making the joint announcement, Mayo S. Sisler, Board Chairman; Anthony D. Schoberl, President of Franklin State Bank; and Charles C. Schuck Jr., President of Farmers and Merchants National Bank, said that all officers and employees of the merged banks would be retained. The merger awaits review by United States Justice Department and should become official as of the close of business August 20.

Franklin State Bank presently operates ten offices in Somerset, Union and Middlesex Counties. Farmers and Merchants operates five offices in Monmouth County.

Upon completion of the proposed merger, the merged bank will have 15 offices serving Union, Somersel, Middlesex and Monmouth Counties. The merged bank would have resources in excess of $155,000,000 and the combined deposits of both banks would make the merged bank the 32nd largest commercial bank in the state, as compiled by the American Banker on December 31, 1970.

shopping center complex on the 18-acre tract. Earlier rejection was based on the zoning board's opinion that excessive land use was planned by the developers. The original application for a needed variance was denied last month, and the revised plans are being submitted in the belief that a much less ambitious project may gain municipal approval. z

PROGRESS SATISFACTORY

On Bowers' Building Project. Completion of the new 113-bed Hamilton Hospital took another step forward last week when a prototype patient's room was shown to directors and volunteers for the Building Fund Drive. Lewis C. Bowers & Sons of Princeton is the prime contractor for the Hamilton Township facility, which is scheduled to open in November.

Fulmer & Bowers, the architects, and the Bowers Construction firm helped revive the planning and building of the new hospital when earlier plans had proved unfeasible and too costly. With the original foundations as a guide, a new design was submitted and approved.

It is a single story building and, in addition to regular patient care and emergency treatment facilities, provides a special center for intensive care and cardiac patients. A heliport is directly adjacent so that emergency cases can be speeded to the site.

Raymond A. Bowers, president of the construction firm, said that "this new health care facility is absolutely unique in the Trenton area. It incorporated the most advanced ideas known to us in the organization and operation of a hospital."

PATIENT ROOM COMPLETED: Raymond A. Bowers (right), president of Lewis C. Bowers & Sons, Inc., and Lester E. Robbins, head of the board of governors of Hamilton Hospital, note progress in completion of first patient room. The 113-bed facility in Hamilton Township will be ready for use in November.

PRICES START AT UNDER $30,000!
Right now, that's all we can tell you. But, by the time you read this, we'll have all the prices, facts and figures, floor plans, financing arrangements and monthly payments. You'll quickly see why a Mackle-built condominium is a luxury vacation or retirement home or an excellent long-range real estate investment opportunity.

200 SOLD IN 34 DAYS AT PREVIOUS OFFERS!
When the Mackle Brothers released condominiums before, 80 were sold immediately in October, 1967 and another 120 were sold in December, 1968. Of the 735 built by Mackle, every one was snapped up fast. $17 million worth so far. In all, a complete sellout!

$1000 TIES ONE UP!
Reserved on a first-come basis, your deposit will be held in escrow until the official release date. Between now and then, you have all the time you need to get all the facts and figures to pick out the best of the lot.

VISIT MARCO ISLAND FIRST!
See for yourself before you make your final deposit. To beat the release date we have even scheduled a special trip to Marco Island at the per person price of $135. That includes everything: transportation, room, meals, tips. We would like you to join us. Call either of the numbers listed below.

IVY WINS TWO MORE

Teague's, Conte's Still In. With two weeks and five games to go, three teams still have a chance to win the championship of the seven-team Princeton Softball League.

By winning two last week, Ivy Inn maintained a one-game lead over Teague and Hinds. Conte's Bar is a game behind Teague's.

Dave Britton allowed only five hits Monday in pitching Ivy Inn to a 7-1 victory over Varsity Sport Shop. The Barmen banged out seven hits and scored five runs in the first to settle things early. Six players had two hits each for the victors.

Bix Kroher and Sam Procaccini led Varsity with two hits each, Kroner scoring the lone run.

Earlier, Richie Volz batted 4-for-4 including a home run to lead Ivy to an easy 11-1 win over Nassau-Conover. The victors' 16-hit attack included three each by Rick Hagadorn and Alby Toto. Britton again got the win.

Tom Brophy had two hits for Nassau-Conover, while Marvin Trotman scored the Motormen's lone run.

Other Sports on Poges 34-36

Teague and Hinds kept pace with wins over Nassau Conover and Grover's Hustlers.

Monday, Teague's overcame a 5-0 deficit to top hard-luck Nassau Conover, 8-5. Nassau had scored four in the first, three coming on a bases-loaded triple by John Armonia and added another in the third.

Teague's got three back in the fifth and then won it with a five-run outburst in the sixth. Ray Cranstoun led Teague's with three hits.

24 Hits, 15 Runs. Earlier, the Hustlers folded under the torrit hitting of George McVaughn and Bucky Melvin of Teague's. McVaughn lashed a triple and two doubles in three at-bats and Melvin drove home four runs with a pair of homers, single and triple. In all, the Icemen pounded out 24 hits. Pete Young got the win. Final score: 15-5.

Dave Mastic led the Hustlers with three hits. Hank Peckett chipped in with a single and double.

Conte's Bar also picked on the Hustlers to stay in contention, defeating them, 5-2, behind the pitching of Dick Fowler. Fowler and Jim Quinn each had two hits for Conte's. The victors wrapped it up with a four-hit, three-run second inning.

Hank Peckett again led the Hustlers with two hits.

Last week, Floyd Phox limited the Country Squire to six hits to earn a 6-2 victory for Varsity Sport Shop.

Nearly all of the scoring came in the first inning when Varsity scored four runs and the losers both of their's.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Ivy Inn	11	2	.846
Teague's	10	3	.769
Conte's	9	4	.692
Varsity	5	8	.385
Squires	4	8	.333
Hustlers	3	10	.231
Conover	3	10	.231

EAGLES HOPE FOR UPSET

In Stadium on August 28. The Philadelphia Eagles will try to duplicate last season's upset of the New York Giants when they meet in the tenth annual Jaycee Football Classic Saturday, August 28, in Palmer Stadium.

The Giants had won the 1970 game here, 27 to 7, and had taken six in a row during the regular season when they traveled to Philadelphia on November 23. The Eagles then took the stuffing out of the Giants by beating them, 23-20.

The Jaycee Classic is New Jersey's largest event staged for charity. Last year, $170,000 was donated to some 500 different charities.

Good seats still remain priced at $6 and $4. They can be purchased rom the Jaycee chapter, P.O. Box 462, Princeton, or may be bought at Varsity Sports, Center Sports, Hinkson's, Cousins or the University Store.

CHRIS HAGADORN, who pitches for newcomer The Country Squire in the Princeton Softball League, is also one of the team's leading hitters.

•The Center recommends classification of CATV as a public utility to bring it under the general regulatory supervision of the Public Utilities Commission

•The Center recommends creation of a state Ofice of Cable Communications to provide advice to the PUC and local officials, to develop long-range plans for CATV development in New Jersey, and to assist in promotion of more public purposes for cable communications

Mr Leone added, "We hope that the results of our research will stimulate state and local officials to use the year long moratorium to fashion a regulatory framework which protects the public interest."

COOL AND RELAXING

Yes, a house can be; particularly when its setting is brook bordered and its verdant lawn studded with mature trees. Cool too, when you are but a short walk from the beckoning shores of Lake Carnegie.

Relaxing, certainly, when you occupy an easy living, easy keeping one story 3 bedroom rambler which has a brand new kitchen and new decorating. You'll also relax when you learn that the move-in condition can be converted to early possession.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP VALUE

Live in our Township's attractive country-side at a most quieting cost. This substantial two story has loads of usable space: living room with fireplace, a paneled study and separate dining room. There are three bedrooms and vast but easily accessible storage areas in the third floor attic and the full basement. A most welcome purchasing opportunity. $31,000

WHAT YOU DON'T SEE MATTERS —

so come into the inviting foyer of this "climate controlled" nine room (4 bedroom-2½ bath) Colonial.

You'll note that the living room is brightened by a classic front bay window and accented by a brick-faced fireplace; that the dining room, which is on the opposite side of the front foyer, will accomodate your family and friends most festively; that the bright and shiny kitchen will make meal preparation easy and the results inspired — sometimes.

Sense the friendly informality of the family room and the useful flexibility of the den-study which converts to a fifth (1st floor) bedroom.

Upstairs there are four bedrooms, two baths, and bounteous storage space.

Come see and save in one of West Windsor's most interesting and attractive neighborhoods.

$52,500

BUILDING SITES

TWO FINGERS OF VODKA FOR UNCLE VANYA: Dubov (Rush Rehm) pours a nip of vodka for John Vennema, left, (Uncle Vanya) and Daniel Berkowitz (Telegin). Summer Intime will present the Chekhov classic beginning this Thursday.

Intime's Comedy, "Joe Egg," Superbly Played

To begin, Joe Egg is a little girl: a spastic, epileptic, paraplegic little girl. She is locked and diapered into herself, unable to connect anything to anything: no speech, no movement, no smiling, nothing.

This is the basis for the extraordinary, startling, and — incredibly — funny play by Peter Nichols, "Joe Egg," now added to the repertory of Summer Intime.

News Of The THEATRES

It is astonishingly clear, perplexing, and questing, and people need to see it.

Imagine a child who is stuffed with rags rather than will, or character, or intentions; but she is alive. Except for that, she could be used (as the joke went) for second base. . . .

How many kinds of cripples are there, once we dispose of the purely physical? Take Joe Egg's mum and dad (who are flawlessly played by Deborah Savadge and Geoff Peterson) for instance. They have passed through doomed mopings to embrace Joe, and — matching God joke for joke— create a fantasy about her and themselves, a vaudeville act, in which the truth of their despair (guilt, punishment) is revealed.

They are as locked into living-through as she; absurdly, they all live. Perhaps their most rational act is to wish for magic, a way to pass the test, a way to save love, their marriage, a way to deny, a way to accept. . . .

The Cynical Viewpoint. But they do, of course, accept, because they do not die. Paul Tillich: "Cynically speaking, one could say that it is true to life to be cynical about it." That does for Joe's dad, who accepts the absurd and the irrational as only a teacher in a public school can.

". . . The acceptance of despair is in itself faith and on the boundary line of the courage to be." That may suit Joe's mum better. She survives better since she has her guilt — for early promiscuity — to fall back on for an explanation. (There is also the church's explanation: a devil in the soul.) Both parents continue to live, but we know that the cynicism of the father is a failure to accept really, a failure to be, a failure to pretend enough faith. . . .

Despite my heavyish talk, the play is written and played on the bright edge of self-laughter (just the other side of self-despair), and the company — especially again

IN "MUSIC MAN": John Todd and Lynn Deonis are among members of the cast of the Open Air Theatre's production of "Music Man". It will run for five nights starting Friday in Washington Crossing Park.

Mr. Peterson and Miss Savadge — is coherent and excellent. Carmen Apelgren, as Joe Egg, makes the playing stop each time she is brought on stage. As her parents say to her, flopped over and inert in her chair, "There's a clever girl."

The play is self-explanatory. Joe's mum and dad constantly addressing their intimacies to the audience, the audience laughing a great deal, and the circumstances tying small knots in their stomachs, knots that ask "What if . . .?" Given a voice, what would Joe say? What is possible for her parents? This is a very funny play about despair, and it is played superbly.

—David Carr

"MUSIC MAN" COMING

To Open Air Theatre. Family entertainment in the form of "The Music Man" will be featured at the Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing Park this Friday and Saturday, with repeat shows on August 5, 6 and 7. Curtain time is 8:45 p.m.

Phil Orlando is cast in the lead role of fast-talking Professor Harold Hill. He starred last month at the Bucks County Playhouse in "On the Way to the Forum." Geoff Orlando is the professor's right-hand man, Marcellus.

Two women will take turns at the role of Marion the librarian: Pat Lambert and Cindy Marion. Others in the cast are John Pote, James Byrnes, John Todd, Michael Arcieri and Weed Tucker as salesmen; Judy Breivener as Amarillis and Todd Jolly as Winthrop.

Robert Sine, Music Man director, has directed musicals and dramas at Hopewell Valley High School and worked with several theatre groups as director and performer.

Choreography is by Mrs. Norman Udy, assisted by Amanda Aldridge. Michael Arcier is executive producer.

"The Music Man" is sponsored by the Hopewell Valley Booster Association, an organization established by parents, teachers and businessmen interested in aiding the high school's activities.

AND NOW "UNCLE YANYA"

For Intime's Final Play. Summer Intime will give the last play of its 1971 summer season "Uncle Vanya", this Thursday, July 29-August 1 and August 12-15.

Written by Anton Chekhov, "Uncle Vanya" is held as one of best of the Russian author's comedies. The play takes place on a failing country estate, inhabited by an odd collection of characters finding it difficult to live with each other and almost impossible to live with themselves.

The professor pretends to academic glory but, comes off really as a buffoon; the ladies of the house are enamoured with the vodka-loving doctor, but are rebuffed. Vanya himself is frustrated to the point of attempting murder, but his inept attempts become ludicrous.

Directing "Uncle Vanya" is Geoff Peterson, Summer Intime's founder and this year's general manager. Mr. Peterson has directed other Intime plays including, "The Trial", A Shot in the Dark", and Misalliance; he has also played key roles in "Anne of the Thousand Days", "Night of the Iguana", and the recent "Twelfth Night."

John Vennema will play Uncle Vanya. Mr. Vennema was seen earlier this season as Starbuck in "The Rainmaker" and Malvolio in "Twelfth Night". Richard Ferrugio will play the professor while his wife and daughter will be played by Deborah Savadge and Giulia Pagano.

The doctor will be played by Larry Strichman, a second year student at the Yale Drama School who directed this season's production of "Joe Egg." Also in the cast are Daniel Berkowitz, a Princeton graduate, and Rush Rehm also a graduate of Princeton who played Andrew Aguecheek in "Twelfth Night."

Mary Anne Jensen will be making a guest appearance with the Summer Intime company in the role of Vanya's mother. Miss Jensen is curator of the Theatre Collection at the Princeton University Library.

All performances begin at 7:30 p.m. on Sundays and 8:30 all other evenings in the Hamilton Murray Theatre on the University campus. Information and reservations may be obtained by calling the SI box office at 452-8181.

FILMS CONTINUE

At Summer Intime. The Summer Intime Film Festival will show films at 8 p.m. this Monday and Tuesday at the McCormick Art Museum on the University campus.

The first of the movies, "Mickey One", stars Warren Beatty in a 1965 surreal paranoid nightmare by Arthur Penn. Tuesday's Festival presentation will be Metropolis, a 1927 film by Fritz Lang which describes the conflict between those who toil and those who profit in a city of the future.

Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. For further information call the SI box office at 452-8181.

"ANY WEDNESDAY" NEXT

At Clinton Theatre. The Clinton Summer Theatre plans a debut of "Any Wednesday" for 8:30 p.m. next Thursday, August 5, at the Clinton Theatre, 23 West Main Street. With a four character cast, the play tells the story of a business tycoon and his tax-deductible mistress.

Written in 1962 by Muriel Resnik, "Any Wednesday" had slow popularity when it first opened in 1964. Soon recognized for its merit as a sophisticated comedy, it continued to run for two years.

Tickets for the play may be obtained by calling the theatre box office at (201) 735-5625 or by stopping by the theatre. Following "Any Wednesday" will be "Fiddler on the Roof", August 11-15.

PICNIC PLAYS PLANNED

By Street Theatre Troupe. The Princeton Street Theatre has planned presentation of two plays, A.A. Milne's "The Ugly Duckling" and "Wandering" by Lanford Wilson for 7:30 p.m., this Thursday, July 29 in the Harrison Street Playground.

If picnicking and play-watching aren't convenient for a Thursday night, the Street Theatre cast plans another performance of their plays for the same time this Friday on the Riverside School lawn and Saturday at Princeton High School.

Summer Activities. The entire company of players in Street Theatre includes only 14 members. But under the direction of Amie Brockway of McCarter and Flight Two, the cast adequately handles all choreographing, designing, set making, costumes and advertising as well as acting.

This summer Street Theatre has also been offering a workshop in the afternoons held in the Borough Hall Gym. The workshop has centered on acting technique as well as providing a chance for guest speakers on various aspects of production.

Consciousness I furniture from Cane Farm

The pioneer spirit is not merely alive; it thrives, in the spirited early American creations and re-creations at Cane Farm.

How did you get the most warmth from a walk in fireplace? You cuddled right up to it in a settle, that's how. The high back kept the heat from getting past you, so you got the most good from the least fuel. The original of this settle (late 1600's) is in the Metropolitan Museum. You can fill a foyer wall with our re-creation. It's 51" wide, 64½" high.

Dry sink. Once a necessity, now a simple delight. We make them a dozen different ways. This one's Dutch. Yours can be any style you want.

IT'S NEW To Us

THINKING ABOUT FURS? Think Flemington. The annual preview of fur fashions at Flemington Fur Company was held last week, with actor John Raitt serving as MC.

You'll find hoods a keynote in the styles for the coming winter — big, luxurious folds of fur to frame your face. Also midi lengths in most of the coats and capes. For fun, fur hot pants, in white mink, for instance, with side panels fascinatingly checkerboarded. The cape is also a checkerboard of white and light brown mink, with pure white mink trim all around; the lining is a breathtaking whirl of color.

John Raitt made his entrance in one of Flemington's dashing styles for men - a full-length, double-breasted dazzler in natural South American gray fox. The lining is brilliant red plaid.

We thought the most striking item in the show was the very unusual and beautiful coat of red-dyed broadtail, with dramatically lovely inserts of colorful abstract embroidery. The inserts appear in the skirt and are repeated at the lower half of the sleeves. A wide piece of the embroidery cinches the waist of the coat.

Silver racoon also appeared with inserts of Navaho designs in a black and gray color scheme. There's the hood on this one for the extravagant look. (Curiously, enough, Flemington Fur is not all that extravagant, having a workshop on the promises and no Park Avenue rentals to pay.)

The workmanship at Flemington is internationally recognized, and newcomers to this area will be quite stunned. We were impressed by the lattice effect the craftsmen achieved with white mink in a classic coat with a notched collar and tie belt. The over-all lattice is a pale brown, not a great contrast to the white, but very pretty. This is extremely fluent use of the supple mink pelt.

There are "chubbies" coming up for the coldest days. The most striking at Flemington's show is fluffy, orange-dyed Islandic lamb. Wear it with black hot pants, and enjoy your world.

For a dressier look - a chubby in champagne - or sable-dyed fox. This is out a little slimmer, and is more of the usual jacket type.

Another attention-getter combined stenciled suede and mink in a very individual way. The flaired slacks have the tie-dye look; the belted jacket combines the white mink and the suede in a vertical way. A sophisticated outfit, and very attractive. (About $795)

Among the capes, a swinging sable, hooded in soft, fluffy amber fox (about $995). To wear with boots, of course. Don't throw them away yet.

And we liked the hood on a mink paw coat, hooded in natural cat lynx. The cuffs match the hood, and there's a tie belt. (About $950)

Flemington Fur has some great cloth coats in its "Town and Country Shop", all trimmed with fur. Most are midi length, we remind you. A black-and-white tweed, for example, with white fox collar.

FLEMINGTON FUR held its annual fashion preview and among the offerings for the coming winter are (at left) a mink blazer — snow-top dyed mink, to be exact — and (at right) an extraordinary example of craftsmen's skill: white mink interspaced with leaves of natural ranch and autumn haze mink. (The jacket: about $1295; the coat: about $2450)

After the debut of the two latest plays in Marquand Park last Thursday, Miss Brockway commented, "They're fun plays, and we're having fun doing them. I think the adults will like them just as much as the kids."

VOCAL CONCERT PLANNED

By Madrigal Singers Thursday. A free concert of Renaissance and contemporary vocal music will be presented by the Canto Ergo Sum Madrigal Singers at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, in the Woolworth Music Center of Princeton University.

Under the direction of James Winn, 1968 Princeton graduate, the group will sing a capella music in three to six parts including works by Morley, Dowland, Byrd, Gesualdo, and Hindemith.

BOYCHOIR TO SING

In Trinity Church. Before embarking on a three-week tour of Italy this Sunday, the Columbus Boychoir will present a preview of their work, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly", at 8 p.m., this Thursday at Trinity Church.

The featured work was commissioned in 1968 by the East End Synagogue, Long Beach, N.Y. to be written by Cantor Charles Davidson, and dedicated to the Columbus Boychoir. Cantor Davidson took words from scratchings of Jewish children on the walls of the Theresienstadt concentration camp and from the diary of a 14-year-old boy, found at the same camp before his extermination.

After a special trip to gather and translate these writings, Cantor Davidson wove the poignant words in a beautiful match to the music and the quality of the boys voices.

The group will sing during their tour in the Cathedral in Milan, St. Mark's in Venice, the Vatican, the Sistine Chapel and for a special audience with the Pope at his summer residence.

IN "STREET SCENE:" Michael Corrigan (2 Dickinson Street) as Sam and Carole Peterson (180 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrence Township) as Rose have two of the lead roles in the folk-opera based on the Elmer Rice play. Following its Washington Crossing run last week, it may be seen again this Thursday in Franklin Park, Trenton, and Saturday in Columbus Park, also in Trenton. A Princeton Opera Association production, it will be presented, admission free, each evening at 8.

cuffs and swooshing around the hem. And a white fox hat, of course.

Hoods are part of the cloth coat scene, too. We saw a fetching grey velour wool coat trimmed in natural blue-grey fox at the end of the hood, and repeated around the coat hem. This is a most feminine, pretty coat.

Another, in beige wool, is accented by natural Canadian lynx - a long fluff around the hem and continuing up the front and around the collar. Designed with a tuxedo front, and a belted back, it drew a round of applause at the fur preview.

And, one more, natural silver fox trim on a lilac wool coat, belted in leather at the waist; a matching hat of fur. Another feminine-look coat.

In every fur fashion show, there are some height of luxury items for the girls to dream over. This time, it was a full-length chinchilla coat - natural Empress Chincilla, in fact - and a cool $9500 on the price tag.

Flemington Fur, to give you the details, is located at 8 Spring Street in Flemington (it has just been enlarged for the 14th time). It has a fur salon, the Town and Country Fashion Shop (where you also find the mad; mod fun furs); and also "Father's Revenge," a club-like spot where an outstanding selection of men's furs, plus leathers, suedes and woolen outerwear are available. The store is open daily and Sundays until 6 p.m. . . Wednesday and Friday evenings until 10 p.m.

stripe, the tray is made of nicely grained wood. The size is about 18 inches. A smaller version is a square. It is nice to get away from dark woods for a while. Both trays are equipped with knives, in case you care.

The new electric grill for outdoor cooking is at Happy House. Called Char-B-Que, it is a sturdy affair of heavy castiron, attractively color-keyed in orange, green or black. The deep lid is almost the depth of the bottom half. There's a dial on the side for temperature control. The electric char-broil saves you all the headaches of starting a fire, and all the cleaning problems. It will fit nicely on your patio table. ($59.95)

For a gift that's different, beautifully sculpted salt and peppers, shaped like pineapples - plated in 24 K gold. About two inches high.

Or, for the creative cook, an oval au gratin dish in soft blue, with an oyster white lining. About 12¼¾ inches, cost $10.95. By Le Creuset, casseroles with lids, skillets, all in the signature colors - yellow, or rich blue, or flame red.

Oven-to-table porcelain by Shafford comes in pristine white, with a saucy wildflower painted on here and there. The decoration is used with admirable restraint. Casserole handles are shaped like leaves, for an interesting note, and the lids feature beautifully fluted lines radiating from the central knob. (3-qt. $16.96; 2 qt., $12.95)

And an oven-to-freezer casserole that appealed to us came in pure white with sculpted detail. ($12.95)

There's an incredible amount of culinary miscellaney on a special, two-sided rack at Happy House. You'll find here small wire baskets, brushes, whips, baking shells, cheese slicers, cookie mold, egg poachers, meat pounders, wood-handle forks like grandma used, picnic and kitchen silver with gay color handles ($1 ea.); graters, deep fry thermometers, small molds, mustard paddles, and even French swizzlers.

We browsed through placemats with a gingham theme, and others with floral themes. We were stopped by the writing paper, finding the most unusual and tasteful we've seen among the new designs. A map of the globe lines the envelope of airmail stationery. Or, a flourish of medieval scrollwork in brilliant colors in the corner of the stationery is repeated in the envelope lining. From Italy, $1.69.

Correction

Charles Peckel of the new Princeton Repair Shop would like to have clarified exactly the way things are with repair of GE toaster ovens. In "It's New To Us" last week, we stated he wouldn't handle them because there are no spare parts available.

He believes there are some spares around and will always try to find them for you. Repairing the electric cord, or something like that, presents no problem at all.

Princeton Repair is located at 345 Witherspoon Street. The phone is 924-9094.

A FATE WORSE THAN DEATH? To have her boyfriend catch her in a lie, says Karen Shangle. For other replies to this week's "Question", see below.

Question Of The Week

Question: What, in your opinion, would be a fate worse than death?

Where asked: Nassau Street

Barbara Moran, Kendall Park, high school student: Having the Communists invade the United States.

Bill Wilson, Princeton Seminary graduate, teacher: If Mr. Nixon were re-elected in 1972. That would be a fate worse than death!

Ruth Penkoske, Morrisville, Pa., Princeton University employee: To loose someone's love that you loved.

Sam Morreale, Hamilton Township, sales Clerk Princeton Clothing Company: Having to bury your own children.

Carroll Stephens, Lawrenceville: Living at George School. It's the most horrible thing in the world.

Tom Lippmann, Princeton Junction, student and sales clerk: Being a politician. You have to give up a lot of things that make life worth living.

Art Carroll, Lawrenceville, painter: Being imprisoned for life. I'd rather be dead.

Lori Meek, Princeton Junction, high school student: After reading Sartre's "No Exit" I'd say not ever being able to get away from what you hated most on earth. In the play, people die and are kept in hell. Hell is what they hated most on earth and they are constantly reminded of it forever.

Joe Kirlin, Morrisville, Pa., student: Not just for me but for everybody: to have the stock market crash.

Richard Moon, Princeton, draftsman: Being paralyzed. Being unable to move. Just sitting there and vegetating.

Helen Lewis, Bordentown, Princeton secretary: Life. If you die what problems do you have. How do we know being dead isn't better than being alive.

Pamela Niederer, Pennington, secretary, Princeton University: For my husband to die before I did.

Patricia Murray, Millstone River Apartments, secretary, Princeton University: To have an incurable disease - and know it.

Linda Johnson, John Street, high school student: The situation the world is in now. Nobody's happy. If you're dead you're happy, so they tell us. In the world today everybody's unhappy, we're fighting each other - and there's no forseeable solution.

Cal Clark, Kendall Park, high school student: Being physically disabled. Not being able to walk or something like that.

Pat Schneider, New Brunswick, graduate student in psychology: Stagnation. When your interests stop growing you're dead anyway. You just become apathetic.

Beth Hall, Denver, student: Having to suffer a lot before you die.

Karen Shangle, 446 Nassau Street, clerk at Zinder's: To have my boyfriend catch me lying.

. . . But Not On The Men

A Princeton merchant when asked this week's Question replied: "Being a bra manufacturer. None of the women are wearing them."

It is tough on the manufacturer. But not on the men.

MEETING SCHEDULED

For Recreation Board. The Princeton Joint Recreation Board was scheduled to meet this Wednesday evening in the temporary classroom building at the rear of Princeton High School.

The board was expected to discuss the possible addition of bocce courts and a basketball court on the south side of Community Park. Executive Director R. Donald Barr said that money had already been put aside for their construction. The south side of the park also contains paddle tennis and tennis courts and the swimming pool complex.

FOGGING CURBS SOUGHT

By League Environmentalists. Members of the West Windsor Environmental Protection League have urged the West Windsor Board of Health to exercise its newly-gained control over the mosquito fogging program and cut back on its sanctioning of the practice.

Besides citing possible health hazards from unregulated use of the insecticide poisons, the League claimed this method of mosquito control had minimal effectiveness.

League environmentalists advocated that the Board request larvicide programs to replace fogging, and to broadcast warnings or announce their plans in area papers when intending to fog so that residents could take precautions.

Flight Two Log

Flight Two, created by the Council of Community Services to provide something for the older youth of Princeton to do, announces that there will be free night swimming at the YMCA Wednesdays from 9:30 to 11:30, and on Sundays from 8:30 to 10:30. Bring your own suit; caps aren't needed, but long hair must be tied back.

The radio workshop will have its third meeting at Flight Two, 173 Nassau, at 6:15 Thursday evening. Those interested in broadcasting should get aboard.

The organization is also trying to organize an art workshop, camping trips and square dancing, but needs people and ideas. Call 924-4595.

Editor's Note: Seven out of ten residents of this Congressional District (New Jersey's Fourth) favor President Nixon's plan to visit Communist China, according to the Legislative Questionnaire mailed annually to his constituents by Rep Frank Thompson. His comments on the President's decision follow.)

NIXON TRIP SUPPORTED

Thompson Questionnaire Shows. In his brief television address to the Nation President Nixon announced that he would be going to China before next May "to seek the normalization of relations" with the People's Republic of China.

This followed the startling news that his Special Assistant for Foreign Affairs, Dr. Henry Kissinger, had met for secret talks with Premier Chou En-lai in Peking on July 9 through 11.

This report coincides with preliminary results of my 1971 Legislative Questionnaire which indicate wide scale support for such a trip. Of a representative sampling of 8,900 returns, 70 percent of the people of the Fourth Congressional District favor extending diplomatic recognition to Communist China; 21 percent are against recognition; and nine percent are undecided. I will publish the complete results of the questionnaire in a forthcoming newsletter.

Perhaps no single speech since Lyndon Johnson's announcement that he would not run for reelection has so caught the Nation by surprise. While the visit of the U.S. Table Tennis Team to China and the lifting of certain trade and visa restrictions with the People's Republic had been greeted by considerable public support, few would have guessed at the speed with which such steps would be followed by the next logical move. With this bold initiative, the President has confirmed the reversal of 25 years of U.S. foreign policy literally overnight.

I do not think it takes anything away from Mr. Nixon to say that he is probaby the first President in 25 years for whom such a move was politicaly possible. Richard Nixon has often stated that the area of his greatest interest and expertise was foreign policy; privately, he has admitted that he believes the lasting achievements of his Administration will be in that field.

As a certified, if not at times over-eager, anti-Communist, he is not open to the charge that by going to Peking he is conspiring with the enemy. Furthermore, he is confronted by an American public which, tired of the recent failures of traditional U.S. foreign policy, particularly in Vietnam, is now more receptive to the possibility of a detente with the Communist nations than at any time since the beginning of the Cold War.

The short term results of the President's announcement seem evident enough. Acknowledgement of China as a great power may well be the forerunner of official diplomatic recognition of the People's Republic by the United States and its inevitable entry into the United Nations.

Beyond that, the thornier question of a "two China" policy for this country must be considered. I do not believe it will be possible for our government to continue to support the fiction that the regime in mainland China exists merely by coercion and massive brain-washing. The de facto government of the People's Republic is also the de jure government, even if such thinking flies in the face of conventional Taiwanese wisdom.

That the President would make his announcement during the week that the Committee of One Million, the last remnants of the China Lobby, is meeting in Washington, shows that this Administration may be willing to reconsider the claims of Chaing Kai Shek and his aging followers to be the true spokesmen for mainland China.

I am hopeful that we can discount recent statements by Secretary of Defense Laird that atomic weapons now stored in Okinawa may be transferred to Taiwan. I have always had grave reservations about our maintaining such weapons on any foreign soil. To suggest that they be moved to Taiwan is a direct threat on China, one which could seriously undermine the goodwill President Nixon is building.

Cadets King Mawhinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mawhinney, Jr., 71 Cleveland Lane: and John S. Wallmark, son of Mrs. Madeline Wallmark, 109 Littlebrook Road, have completed six weeks practical training in military leadership at Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps advanced summer camps.

Cadet Mawhinney, who is attending Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., was stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Cadet Wallmark is attending the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va. He was in training at Indiantown Gap military reservation, Annville, Pa.

Serving in the civil engineer corps in Vietnam from October 1969-June 1970, Lt. Pettit coordinated efforts of a construction team in completing 16 projects including building of schools, public buildings, bridges, road upgrades, and utilities.

Donald S. Bond, 456 Snowden Lane, research physicist at Astro-Electronics division of RCA Corporation, Princeton-Hightstown Road, has been awarded a patent on a high speed radio facsimile mail system.

Projected features of the communication relay would allow the writer of a letter to insert it in a radio mailbox on the corner or in an office building with the required postage. A cathode ray facsimile scanner would record the image and return the original in 10-15 seconds.

The recorded image signals would then be transmitted to a local central office, transferred to magnetic tape, and sent by a radio transmitter to a synchronous satellite. Within seconds the letter message would be beamed to the addressee, who would receive it directly on a home facsimile recorder. The entire process for a trans-continental communication could be completed in less than a minute.

Mr. Bond, who has been awarded over 50 patents in the field of radio and electrical engineering, received earlier recognition for his work in the invention of the radio direction finder used extensively in military and civilian aviation throughout World War II.

After receiving his B.S. (1929) and M.S. (1931) in physics from the University of Chicago, Mr. Bond joined RCA where he has been for more than 36 years. In 1954 he was elected a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

Thomas A. Ettinghausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ettinghausen, 24 Armour Rd; and Charles Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Brown, 24 Cherry Brook Drive, are singing in the Berkshire Boy Choir, a national all-star group of top voices from leading singing organizations throughout the country.

Currently rehearsing at Amherst College, the choir will give sixteen concerts in the latter parts of July and August including a performance at the opening of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington in September. The group is being directed by Allan Wicks, choirmaster at Canterbury Cathedral, England.

Navy Petty Officer First Class Lars Christiansen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Christiansen, 922 Alexander Road, has completed a four-month deployment to the Indian Ocean and Western Pacific aboard the anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga.

Paul M. Douglas, 48 Cleveland Lane, has been appointed vice president of the marketing division of Management Television Systems, Inc., N.Y. In his new position Mr. Douglas will be in charge of the company's sales, advertising, and public relations.

Mr. Douglas joined MTS in 1968 as director of marketing. He previously held executive public relations positions in General Foods, McCann-Erickson advertising agency and his own company. Mr. Douglas has also served in teaching and administrative posts in government and politics at Princeton University and Oberlin College.

Alan Brody, son of Professor and Mrs. Nathan Brody, 32 Shady Brook Lane, was selected one of the "Yankee Good Kids" at the July 11 baseball game at Yankee Stadium.

Alan will be a guest of the Yankees and receive two box seats for the Yankee-Orioles game scheduled for next Friday.

Peter F. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel B. Johnson, 85 Overbrook Drive, has been awarded his doctorate degree in dental medicine from the School of Dental Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa., where he was a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, the honor dental society.

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Lee Sanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon P. Sanna, Glenmoore Farm, Hopewell, is serving in the Mediterranean aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga as part of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Roma Eterna. Losing pitcher Bob Myhill struck out 11 but gave up eight hits.

Engine Company No. 1 divided its two games. It stopped Roma Eterna, 6-1, on a one-hitter by Ed Frick.

Frick aided his own cause by batting 2-for-3 but he got all the power he needed from Jim LaPlaca. LaPlaca was a perfect 3-for-3 including a pair of homers. Tom Hagadorn got the only hit off Frick.

LaPlaca and Frick also stood out in No. 1's 6-3 loss to No. 3. LaPlaca, the losing pitcher, homered and tripled, while Frick also had a triple. Winning pitcher Mike Boonin and Bob Stryker led No. 3 at the plate.

SIEJA COACHING FENCERS

In Pan Am Games. Stanley Sieja, who has coached Princeton fencing teams for the past quarter century, is guiding the 12-man team currently representing this country in the Pan American Games. Competition began this week in Cali, Colombia, and will last until August 10.

For Sieja, whose home is at 149 Terhune Road, the honor of coaching this team marks the second time he has done so. In 1967, he handled the U. S. entry in the Pan Am Games at Winnipeg, Manitoba. He also coached the U.S. team in the World Games in 1964 at Warsaw, in 1966 at Moscow and in 1969 at Havana.

The ranking coach in collegiate fencing on a basis of his 25 years, Sieja came to Princeton in 1946 following a decade of coaching at his alma mater, N.Y.U. His Tiger teams have been uniformly successful during the past quarter century, reaching a climax in 1964 when they won the NCAA Championship.

Sieja was twice named Coach of the Year by his colleagues, in 1962 and 1969. In 1967, he was inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame.

A member of the U.S. Olympic Games Committee, Sieja coached the U.S. entry last April at the "Under 19" International Championships held at Notre Dame University.

The U.S. basketball team includes Brian Taylor, who has completed his sophomore year at Princeton. The 6-3 guard is the only Ivy college player on the 12-man squad.

SCHWEIOR WINS HERE

In YMCA Tennis Singles. Bob Schweior of Maplewood, a junior at Rutgers University, last week won the 15th annual Princeton YMCA Tennis Tournament.

Schweior, down in the third set, 4-2, capitalized on a strong serve and steady backband to come back and win the set and the match from Ken Wilson, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. Wilson, of Trenton and Parkview Tennis Club, was the tourney's No. 1 seed. Wilson had won the tournament in 1955 but had since been living away from the Princeton area. This was his first try after returning to live here.

Stanley Sieja

To reach the finals, Schweior ousted three fine Princeton players, including Steve Tobolsky, seeded second. Peter Dumpl and Roger Young. In all, 88 players competed.

RCA A BEATEN

Astro Alone In First. Jumping on RCA A pitching for eight runs in the first inning, Hopewell TV went on to a 14-3 upset triumph and dropped the losers further out of first place. RCA Astro, which was idle last week, picked up a half game, and now leads the western division of the Business Softball League by one game.

John Rzuczek had three hits including a home run for the winners. RCA helped pave the way to its defeat by committing seven errors.

Cities Service, a game and a half back, kept its hopes alive, beating American Cyanamid, 7-4. Bruce McIntyre had three hits. Bob Lewis and Charley Oettel each hit home runs.

In the eastern division, ETS pulled out one of its patented come-from-behind victories, scoring an 8-7 extra inning decision over FMC. Behind 7-4 in the bottom of the sixth, ETS tied the game on back-to-back homers by Joe Leone and Nick Chiantese, one with a man on.

It won the game in the eighth on a bad-hop single by Ed Willis and a poor throw on a relay from the outfield

BANK WINS PAIR

For One-Game Lead. Princeton Bank & Trust won a pair of games last week in the senior division of the PYBA to take a one-game lead over PBA.

Bob King hurled a one-hit, 12-1, victory over Thorne's, besting Steve O'Neill. Andy Alexander's double was the only Thorne hit. The Bank then defeated PBA, 8-4, behind the pitching of John Videbeck. Bob McHugh took the loss.

In its other start, PBA edged New York Life, 3-2, Pat Kahny outpitching George Reynolds.

NYL's Mike Diamond allowed only one hit, a double by Bill Crane, and fanned seven, yet still lost to Thorne's, 5-2. Bill Speagle of Thorne's struck out 10 and was touched for hits by Rich Warfield. George Reynolds and Tom Stanga.

The standings: PB&T, 7-2; PBA, 6-3; Thorne's, 4-5; and NYL, 1-8.

HICKS, LAPIDUS WIN

At Stone Harbor. Libby Hicks of Lawrenceville and Jay Lapidus of Galbreath Drive were winners of the girls and boys 12 and under tennis tournament held last week in Stone Harbor.

Libby defeated Marilyn Dods of Delaware in the finals, 6-3, 6-2. En route to her unexpected triumph (she was unseeded), she also won over the No. 2 seed, Sally Handwerk of Bethlehem, Pa.

Lapidus, seeded No. 2, defeated the favorite in the finals, 6-0, 6-1. He lost only three games in the entire tourney.

Libby and Jay then teamed to play in the 16 and under doules, losing 6-3, 6-1 in the finals. Suzanne Bishop and Suzanne and Buff Burchfield were others from Princeton who participated in the tournament.

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. ■ Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. ■ Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?
